

Distinguish, differentiate, compare and explain what is the Difference between Commercial and Subsistence Agriculture. Comparison and Differences.

Difference between Commercial and Subsistence Agriculture

1. Commercial agriculture is that practice of farming in which crops are grown for trade. Subsistence agriculture is that practice of farming in which the farmer and his family raise crops for home consumption.
2. Commercial agriculture is practiced on large farms. Subsistence Agriculture is practiced on small farms.
3. Commercial agriculture is capital intensive. Subsistence Agriculture is labor intensive.
4. In Commercial agriculture farming, modern technology and implements are used. For example, the production of sugarcane in Uttar Pradesh. In Subsistence Agriculture farming, old technology and old implements are used. For example, the production of wheat in some parts of India.

Steady Run